

What does pre-loved mean to you?

Come and find out more about book recycling with GreenMetropolis.com and join in with our Book Swap!

UK Aware 16th – 17th April at Olympia Two – STAND 93

Pre-loved? Is it the handmade quilt your grandma gave you because you have always liked it? The little teddy bear passed down when you were five years old? Or is it the book your sister sent because she loved it and she thought you'd love it too?

Here at GreenMetropolis.com we truly believe that pre-loved is better and that good books are better shared, which is why we give all our members the chance to read, then recycle their favourite books.

But why?

We could bore you with all the details about how deforestation is destroying the planet and the importance of reusing and recycling – but you know all that stuff already. No, the truth is we're not 'tree-hugging' hippies, we just love finding a bargain, saving money and helping the environment along the way! We believe it's just the right thing to do – a sort of 'pay it forward' for people who love good books.

So be sure to make GreenMetropolis.com your first choice when you shop for books and give a pre-loved book a new home. You'll feel better for it.

Come and see us on STAND 93 at UK AWARE 2010. We'd love to tell you more about our "read, recycle and reward" philosophy. It's a win/win for books and trees - and that's what counts.

We'll also be running a 'Book Swap' on the day, so bring along the book you've just finished reading and swap it for a new (pre-loved) one! For more information visit:
